West Virginia Romances: Tales of Young Love in the Mountain State Volume I and II by Dan Kincaid (Cade Holley Publishing, 184 pp., 171 pp.) features various love stories from around the state. Readers may recognize locations such as Marshall University, Snowshoe Resort, The Monongahela National Forest, and Blennerhassett Island. Though these stories are works of fiction, readers may well find echoes of their own experiences within the pages. These cleanly written accounts share charming stories of young love—suitable for readers of all ages. Readers young and old may enjoy these stories and will perhaps reflect back on their own tales of young love.
